

Neurologic Music Therapy Assessment and Consultation Sessions Information

Once off assessments or semi-regular consultation sessions are available in 2020. Due to limited timeslots available and a large demand for services, I offer some alternatives to ongoing sessions. This includes:

- Assessment sessions and accompanying written report for the purposes of any or all of the following: securing NDIS funding for a music therapy program, informing a home program using music to assist with non-musical skills, providing recommendations (or review of program) to an existing music therapist you work with.
- Once off casual sessions as dates are available (opt to go on a wait list for cancellation timeslots)
- Semi-regular/quarterly sessions to review programs, provide recommendations for home/school/other therapy team members or training family members on ways to use music at home to assist the child.
- Online resources www.nmtsb.podia.com
